Business Experience:

March 2010 to Present: Hanover Financial Services:

I am the Executive Vice President and majority stock holder of Hanover Financial Services which provides consultant services to the reverse mortgage industry. Consulting assignments are preferably accepted under long term relationship agreements. I have been on various assignments most pertaining to the reverse mortgage industry.

Most assignments have involved expanding existing or forming startup operations, recruiting and training, investor relations, interim supervision, marketing, secondary market trading, product development and production build up.

My assignments have also involved the creation of the material for websites, creating marketing materials, and quality control as well as infrastructure procedures.

Other assignments have been as a professional witness in the mortgage banking industry. I have also have worked with various attorneys as a consultant in fraud cases as well as Ponzi scheme occurrences in the reverse mortgage industry.

November 2008 – February 2010: AAXA Mortgage, NC:

Senior Vice President in charge of organizing and heading up the reverse mortgage division of the company. AAXA at the time was in thirty one states, originating only traditional FHA, VA and conventional loan products.

I was responsible for starting the entire reverse mortgage division and all its departments within. Like any new venture or division there was ramp up time involved but we were going in the right direction and progressing well. The company was involved into merger negotiations with a bank at that time. Major difficulties occurred with the merger, AAXA could not survive the economic crash that many firms were experiencing. AAXA closed their doors in February of 2010.

October 2006 – June 2008: Countrywide Banks:

When TransLand Financial went into receivership (Company shown next) Countrywide Banks approached me and TransLand to negotiate a transaction that entailed the transfer of the entire reverse mortgage division, the staff, our pipeline and my expertise. This was accomplished by working with the courts to obtain approval, which was consummated.

My position with Countrywide Banks was that of an area manager. In the beginning I enjoyed my position very much, within six months from my date of being hired, Countrywide Bank started to hire their old Sub-Prime staff back. They were placed in the reverse mortgage division; I was required to take many of them on in my region. My supervisor that hired me was replaced with one of the ex sub-prime managers, who I started to report to. I became very unhappy with my position and the philosophy Countrywide started to displayed toward the reverse mortgage industry. I parted ways with Countrywide Bank in June of 2008. They were eventually acquired by Bank of America!

May 2001 – September 2006: TransLand Financial Services: I was the Senior Vice President in charge of the reverse mortgage division. I started the division from its inception and grew the division to eventually becoming the second largest reverse mortgage account in the south eastern portion of the US for Financial Freedom.

I started the division under Financial Freedom's brokerage program; we were originating and processing the product. Within six months we completed our FHA test cases and became a delegated underwriter for Financial Freedom. Within one year I obtained warehouse lines through WAMU. We then became a full correspondent and a closed loan seller. By 2006 we were doing over one hundred closed loans per month and growing.

Unfortunately, TransLand Financial had major financial problems in their construction lending division. It was critical enough to force the company into bankruptcy.

December 1994 - March 2001: Centurion Mortgage Company: I was the primary organizer and served as president and CEO of the company. Centurion Mortgage was a full service mortgage banking firm, specializing in residential, commercial lending and the origination of reverse mortgages. The company was acquired in 2001 by a bank out of Atlanta, GA.

June 1991 – July 1994: Paragon Mortgage Corporation: As regional vice president I was responsible for establishing an eight (8) state regional business base of conforming and non-conforming correspondents for the company's wholesale division. Responsibilities included the complete set-up of office operations and personnel. Personally established an initial solid customer base, responsible for creating all Wholesale division marketing material and involved on an on-going basis in the expansion of company systems and procedures. In July of 1994, Paragon, a publicly traded company on the NASDAQ exchange, ceased operations nationwide.

August 1981 – April 1991: Organized and established Taylor, Bean & Whitaker Mortgage Corporation in Ocala, Florida.

Taylor Bean & Whitaker was established for the purpose of trading mortgage pool transactions in the secondary market and the origination of conventional, F.H.A. & V.A. conforming and non-conforming residential loans. The company also had a commercial lending division. We were in seven (7) states and very successful. In 1990 I entered into negotiations with Security Federal Savings & Loan Association of Peoria, Illinois. Negotiations were finalized and Taylor, Bean & Whitaker was officially acquired on April 1, 1991.

In late 1992 Security First Federal went into receivership and had to diversify its holdings in Taylor, Bean and Whitaker, the company was acquired by a private investment group. I tried to acquire the company back but my bid was not accepted.

Using my original concept of developing a mortgage exchange for community banks and credit unions, Taylor, Bean and Whitaker went on to be the largest private mortgage banker in the country. They were also the third largest FHA issuer nationwide.

September 1979 – June 1981: I was employed by PMI Mortgage Insurance Company, a wholly owned subsidiary of Sears and Roebuck in the capacity of Director of the Mortgage Investment Group for the southeast region of the United States.

In the capacity of Director my responsibilities were to arrange the sale and purchase of large mortgage portfolios in the secondary market for targeted accounts designated by PMI. I also had the responsibility of the arrangement of mortgage-backed securities through their conduit Pennie May. During my employment with PMI I worked closely with FNMA and FHLMC and negotiated commitments with them in excess of 15.5 billion dollars on a nationwide basis. I left PMI to form Taylor, Bean & Whitaker Mortgage Corporation.

1971 – June 1979: Majority Stockholder, President and Chairman of the Board of Florida Southern Mortgage Corporation. In April of 1978, merged with First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Broward County Florida and remained on as President.

Since the inception of Florida Southern Mortgage, thru April of 1978 the company primarily originated, processed and placed conventional, FHA, VA and commercial loans. In 1971 when the firm was formed we started with one location and at the time of the merger, Florida Southern Mortgage Corporation consisted of eighteen branches plus a regional center office located in Clearwater, Florida and our company headquarters in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.
